The subject property has been a landmark building for many years having traded as Kennedy Wolfenden Antiques & Jewellery. The building is made up by the end terrace commercial unit at ground floor and then an adjoining residential property which in turn wraps over the top of the commercial section and extends over four levels. The property offers a superb opportunity for either residential or commercial redevelopment which would most likely be leisure or tourist led in the form of restaurant, aparthotel/inn subject to planning.

This high profile building occupies a prominent corner site in the centre of Portrush Town. Portrush has reestablished itself as Northern Ireland's premier coastal tourist resort and has seen the development of a number of hotels to bolster the growing levels of tourism visits and spend.

The subject is situated directly opposite the Adelphi Hotel (Marine & Lawn) and is in close proximity to Portrush Atlantic Hotel and the newly redeveloped Marcus Hotel (Andras House).

Portrush is c. 60 miles north of Belfast, c. 47 miles from Belfast International Airport, c. 29 miles from City of Derry airport and c. 52 miles to the Port of Larne.

Portrush is now perhaps most associated with Royal Portrush Golf Club the host of the 153rd Open Championship in 2025. The town also allows ease of access to the World Heritage Site, The Giants Causeway and also to the world famous Bushmills Distillery, two of the most popular tourist attractions in Ireland.

The town is made up by a peninsula with the subject being in the heart of the one way traffic system and then having stunning beaches and bays either side of the peninsula.
