SUMMARY

Number 19 Tildarg Road was constructed in 1850, and is positioned in one of County Antrim's most sought after residential locations.

This immaculately presented family home has been sympathetically modernised and updated but retains those important period features. It is set on a spacious mature site and the gardens are set in well-manicured lawns, mature trees and shrub-beds.

Internally the home offers four bedrooms plus study, ensuite to the master bedroom, plus a shower room and bathroom. There are two reception rooms and a kitchen with casual dining space and separate utility room. There is extensive driveway parking and a large spacious cavity wall garage which could be converted for a range of uses subject to planning.

Rarely there is an opportunity to purchase such a fine home with such history and we have no hesitation in recommending immediate inspection of this wonderful property.
