Enjoying an incredible, private site of over an acre, this substantial and attractive family home is nevertheless just off the Belmont Road. It is therefore within easy reach of excellent amenities, parks and some of the province's leading schools for all ages.

The Arts and Crafts style house has been extended and remodelled to an exacting standard by the current owners. Light, space and flow abounds throughout. With attention to detail very much to the fore, there is little for a purchaser to do except move in and enjoy their stunning new home.

The electrical and heating specifications are both a sight to behold. Feature lighting abounds both inside and out with many having dimming capabilities and gorgeous light fittings. The zoned, oil-fired system with Heatmiser thermostats features underfloor water heating throughout the entry level, all controllable by an app on your mobile phone.

Externally this is complemented by delightful, landscaped gardens. The exceedingly private, south-west facing rear has been attractively raised and levelled making it ideal for children and outdoor entertaining alike. A wooded area replete with secure fencing and gates provides an excellent degree of natural screening. A floodlit path takes you down to your own access to Massey Avenue.

Once a 19th century estate owned by linen merchant Malcolmson Greeves, Tweskard comes from an Anglicised-Gaelic word "tuaisceairt" which means North. The detached homes on one of Belfast's most highly regarded parks were originally built in the 1940s with professionals attracted to the lovely sites and superb location close to the Stormont Estate. Belmont, Ballyhackamore and Holywood are all within easy reach making this an enticing proposition.

With lateral living across just two floors, it is only upon internal inspection that one can appreciate all this fabulous family home has to offer.
