Love where you live

An award-winning development behind the High Trees Donaghadee

Combining the charm of the coast with commuter convenience, High Trees offers a breath of fresh air as a place to call home.

Donaghadee is a bustling town, with a thriving local community in County Down steeped in history and full of charm.

Known as the 'Dover of Ireland', this scenic town enjoys a coastal location and one of Ireland's most picturesque harbours to enjoy on weekend strolls.

There is a range of sports clubs with Golf, Rugby, Tennis, Sailing, Football, Cricket and the increasingly popular activity of sea swimming, along with many beach walks and hidden treasures such as Portavoe Reservoir, ideal spots to enjoy the great outdoors.

Alternatively, you could head towards the larger towns of Bangor and Newtownards and avail of all they offer in terms of shopping, eating and socialising.

From Donaghadee you could either head further down the coast along the Ards Peninsula and visit the various quaint towns and villages, taking advantage of some of the more remote beaches or a visit to Mount Stewart.
