SITE WITH FULL PLANNING APPROVAL

Set in a pleasant rural environment, approximately one and a half miles from Ahoghill village, this building site, with full planning approval for a detached two storey house with double garage, (dwelling circa 3275 sqft), has foundations already laid, development having been certified as started, thus protecting the original planning approval. The plans could however, subject to planning consent, be changed to suit personal taste if required.

Extending to circa 0.60 acres, the site is approached from the Old Portglenone road via a very short section of shared access, then an exclusive driveway for the remainder.
